

ASNR Membership Provides Valuable Benefits

Whether you are just starting out your career in neurorehabilitation or are a seasoned professional in the field, the American Society of Neurorehabilitation (ASNR) can provide valuable resources and connect you with a vibrant community of scientists, clinicians, and other rehabilitation professionals.

Networking

We encourage all ASNR members to attend our Annual Meeting to meet new people, reconnect with colleagues, and engage in dynamic discussions surrounding a wide variety of topics in neurorehabilitation. Each year, we plan our program to include a series of sessions, courses, roundtables, breaks, and receptions designed to introduce you to a diverse group of ASNR members and leaders in the field of neurorehabilitation. Outside of our Annual Meeting, ASNR members participate in other professional social events, such as the Society for Neuroscience's annual Neurorehabilitation Social. ASNR members also have exclusive access to our Online Membership Directory which can help you get connected and stay in touch with fellow ASNR members.

Mentoring and Mentorship

In addition to informal opportunities to discuss research and career development with other ASNR members during networking events, we also offer a formal Virtual Mentoring Program exclusively for ASNR members. This has been a popular and successful program pairing early career scientists and clinicians with our members who are more senior neurorehabilitation professionals for structured mentorship sessions that span the course of one year.

On-Demand Library of Educational Webinars and Past Conference Content

Career development is a key focus for ASNR, and we strive to offer members unparalleled resources to help them achieve their career goals. While registration for our live webinars is open to the public, only ASNR members can access our library of recordings of past webinars and content from our past Annual Meetings. This content can provide valuable insights for helping you build your CV, find your dream job, better manage your time, and more.

Neurorehabilitation & Neural Repair Journal Subscription

As the official journal of ASNR, Neurorehabilitation & Neural Repair \(NNR\) is a well-regarded academic journal publishing articles focused on evidence-based basic and clinical practice and research in the field of neurorehabilitation. ASNR members receive a subscription to the print journal of NNR, and the first color page in the printed issue is complimentary for articles accepted with an ASNR member as the corresponding author.

Service and Leadership Opportunities

Engaging in service is important, and a track record of service to your field is often a factor considered by committees when making decisions about hiring, promotions, and awards. ASNR offers a variety of opportunities to participate in service through positions on our Board of Directors, Committees, and other initiatives. We also offer opportunities for our members to gain leadership experience and further develop their leadership skills by serving on our Executive Committee or as a Chair for our Program Committee, Education Committee, or Membership Engagement Committee.

Conference Perks

All ASNR members have reduced fees for registration for our Annual Meeting. This year, we are excited to be heading to sunny Charleston, South Carolina from March 14-16th, and our program is full of fantastic speakers, poster sessions, and social events. In addition, members receive important email updates and reminders of deadlines for symposia proposals, abstract submissions, and conference registration.

“I joined ASNR as a postdoc over 10 years ago, and being part of this organization has really helped me grow professionally and personally,” said Dr. Sydney Schaefer, a long-time ASNR Member who has experienced these benefits firsthand. “One of the great things about ASNR is its commitment to its members, providing opportunities throughout the year for career development and education. The Annual Meeting has also been invaluable to my career, helping me expand my scientific network and meet people who have been (and still are) instrumental in my academic career. Because of ASNR’s continued efforts to support its members, I am excited to be a part of the Member Engagement Committee. ASNR is a great community to be connected with,” she remarked.
